Dear ISWI Participant:

This information is courtesy of Dr Hans Haubold at the UN Office for Outer Space Affairs in Vienna, Austria.

The space agency of Nigeria (National Space Research and Dev. Agency, NASRDA, whose Director General is Dr S. O. Mohammed) has a branch called CBSS, or Centre for Basic Space Science. This center publishes the "Nigerian Journal of Space Research". The website for this is:

I attach a pdf of it. You can download any issue for free.

A recent issue, Volume 8, is a special issue on papers contributed by several researchers who actively participate in IHY/ISWI.

Cordially yours,
George Maeda
The Editor.

EXCITING ANNOUNCEMENT TO ALL SPACE SCIENTISTS!

Nigerian Journal of Space Research (NJSR) : published with the aim of serving as a medium of dissemination of the work, findings and discoveries of researchers in Nigeria and other parts of the world in the areas of space science. Currently such an important journal does not exist in Nigeria. Scientists/researchers themselves have expressed the urgent need of having this journal. The journal will provide original papers, editorials, news, conference reports, career/professional information that would be relevant to scientists/researchers in Nigeria.
