

VENUE OF THE CONFERENCE

Malacca, just one and a half hours South of Kuala Lumpur and a two hours drive from Singapore is rich in history, culture, heritage and tradition. Boasting famous historical sites which date back to the 1500s, Malacca is a potpourri of unique cultures and cuisines. Standing in the hub of Melaka city is the Hotel Equatorial Melaka, a 5-star international business class hotel that is within walking distance to the main business, shopping and entertainment districts.

Bringing you the allure of historical Malacca with modern day conveniences, this 5-star 22-storey international business hotel features 496 luxuriously furnished rooms with each room offering a generous view of the Straits of Malacca or historical St. Paul's Hill.

Apart from the large selection of dining and entertainment outlets, the hotel also prides itself in offering the biggest and most advanced meeting and banquet facilities in Malacca. The banqueting and catering team is famed for its versatility in accommodating theme dinners.

Background

Given the rapid development of space science and technology, that has gained tremendous importance in the sustainable development of natural resources, telecommunications, meteorology and related fields, and the increase in the number of participants since the last two conferences: the IconSpace2009 and IconSpace2011, the Institute of Space Science (ANGKASA), Universiti Kebangsaan Malaysia (The National University of Malaysia, UKM) is proud to extend her promotion of research and education in the field of space science, technology and governance by this international conference. The 2013 IEEE International Conference on Space Science & Communication (IconSpace2013) with a theme "Facing the Challenges of the Solar Maximum" will be the third in the series of conferences organized by ANGKASA and IEEE through IEEE Malaysia Communication - Vehicular Technology Society Chapter. IconSpace2013 aims to address advances in research on space science and communication by bring together researchers in the fields of space science, communication technology and related fields to present their research findings as well as create opportunities for more research collaborations by joining this conference.

Scope of Topics

- Atmospheric Sciences
- Astrophysics and Astronomy
- Remote Sensing
- Satellite and Communication Technology
- Smart Materials for Space Applications
- Space Education
