The screenshot shows the homepage of the International Space Weather Initiative (ISWI). The browser address bar displays <http://www.iswi-secretariat.org/>. The page features a navigation menu with the following items: About, Organization, Projects, Meetings, Publications, and News&Blogs. The 'Meetings' menu is expanded, showing a list of options: ISWI-UN Workshops (checked), Calendar of Events, and ISWI Events. A yellow box highlights the 'Meetings' menu and the 'ISWI-UN Workshops' option. A yellow arrow points from the 'ISWI-UN Workshops' option down to the main ISWI logo, which is a large oval containing the text 'INTERNATIONAL SPACE WEATHER INITIATIVE' and 'ISWI' in large letters, with a sun on the left and Earth on the right. Below the logo, there is a paragraph of text: 'ISWI is a program of international cooperation to advance the space weather science by a combination of instrument deployment, analysis and interpretation of space weather data from the deployed instruments in conjunction with space data, and communicate the results to the public and students. ISWI is a follow-up activity to the successful IHW 2007, but focusing exclusively on space'. The browser's status bar at the bottom shows the URL <http://www.stil.bas.bg/ISWI/Meetings/ISWI-meetings2012.html>.
